

ATTENTION:

EMERGENCY DRILL IN PROGRESS

The Oregon City Police Dept. is conducting an emergency training exercise today at Oregon City High School. Part of the exercise is located on the grounds of Clackamas Community College.

Numerous emergency response vehicles and agencies will be present, and actors portraying students and victims will be evacuated from the high school to the college campus. The college is routing traffic away from the training site and providing a staging area for the Oregon City Police Dept.

The college's emergency response team is also participating in this activity as an important training opportunity. We appreciate your understanding and support of this important activity.
