| Class Schedule Redesign Research ProjectPresenter: Shelly Parini/MaryJean Williams   | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• A task force was formed to look at the possibility of reducing the cost of printing and mailing the class schedule. Does the class schedule still provide people with the information they need to make the most of their education opportunities? Results came back from community members and credit-seeking students through a survey and focus groups. It was learned that our audiences have diverse informational needs and one publication doesn't meet those needs. A solution could be two different publications: one for our community members that could be mailed out and another for our degree-seeking students available on campus. These recommendations could save the college money for not only printing but mailing costs as well. The task force is looking for additional feedback. If you are interested, please contact Shelly Parini.</li> </ul> |
| CCC as a Community of Engagement, A Report Out on Learning Phase OnePresenter: BJ Nicoletti  | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Please take 10-15 minutes to reflect on how CCC is doing in the survey supplied by the Culture, Communication, and Engagement Assessment (CCEA) task force. Speak to our strengths and challenges as we work to support each other and fulfill the college's mission in this anonymous survey to be completed by April 30. http://www.hostedsurvey.com/takesurvey.asp?c=CultureforSuccess</li> </ul>   |
